Clerk W. A. Bishop and Miss Catherine Reed Married at Cairo.

THEY WILL RESIDE HERE

Marriage of Miss Carrie Grace and Mr. Arthur Sugars Announced for October 2nd.

OTHER MARRIAGE NOTES

First Clerk W. A. Bishop, of the steamer Dick Fowler, and Miss Catherine Reed, of Nashville, were married at the Presbyterian church at Cairo, Ill., Saturday afternoon in the presence of a few friends, Rev. Dr. Knox officiating. The wedding was a pleasant surprise to the boat officers, and to the many friends here of Mr. Bishop.

It was the culmination of a long courtship. Miss Reed had been visiting friends at St. Louis, and was on her way home. She came up from Cairo on the Dick Fowler to catch a Cumberland river boat, and the marriage was arranged.

Mr. Bishop is a native of Louisville, and is one of the best known and most popular young men on the river. He is well and favorably known on the Ohio, Cumberland and Tennessee rivers, having been formerly on the H. W. Buttrick, and other boats and is a young man of many excellent qualities, and one who is liked by all who know him.

His bride is a popular young lady of Nashville, and a most attractive one, with many admirers. She and Mr. Bishop have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

They will reside in Paducah, now having rooms at the Palmer house.

The marriage of Miss Carrie Grace, youngest daughter of Mr. Augustus Grace, of North Fifth street, to Mr. Arthur Sugars, of Needles, Cal., is announced to take place at the home of the bride in Paducah on the morning of October 2, at 10 o'clock. Rev. W. E. Cave, of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. It is to be a quiet home wedding, only a few intimate friends and relatives being invited, and immediately after the ceremony the couple will leave for their future home in California.

Miss Grace is a pretty and popular young lady with many admirers, and is a graduate of the Paducah public schools, class of 1900. She has resided in Paducah all her life, and is one of the most attractive of the younger set.

Mr. Sugars is a nephew of Conductor Sam Sugars, and formerly resided in Paducah. The attachment came from a long friendship, and resulted in an engagement while here last winter on a visit.

Mr. Sugars is a conductor on the Santa Fe Road, and one of the best, as well as youngest, with the company. His home was formerly in Michigan, but he has not lived there for several years. He is a young man of sterling worth, and he and his pretty bride will have the best wishes of many friends.

Miss Nell Turk, daughter of contractor Joe Turk, of Trimble street, and Mr. Clair C. Dobbs, of Terra Haute, Ind., will marry at ten o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of the bride, Rev. J. Witt Iron, of the Trimble street Methodist church, officiating. The bride is a popular young lady and the groom a furniture dealer of Terra Haute. The couple will go to Buffalo on a bridal tour.

Mr. George L. Wurth and Miss Mary Kaufman, of the St. John's neighborhood, highly respected young people, will marry Wednesday.

Howard P. Smith left Saturday for Mayfield, Ky., where he will lead to the altar Mrs. Ida E. McCourt, a very popular lady of that place, says today's Memphis Commercial-Appeal. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will spend their honeymoon in the east and later make their permanent home in this city.

GOES TO MAYFIELD.

MISS MARTHA GREEN, THE ELOCUTIONIST, IN THE COLLEGE THERE.

Miss Martha Green, the well known elocutionist, arrived yesterday on a visit to Mr. Will Green, her brother, of South Sixth street. Miss Green, who has many admirers here, has accepted the position of teacher of elocution in the West Kentucky college, at Mayfield, and will reside there. Miss Green's many friends here will regret that she is not to be in Paducah this year, but will wish her a full measure of success in Mayfield.

Milk and Meat Inspector Hessig this morning received a new milk tester.

YESTERDAY'S SERVICES

Churches Well Attended Throughout the City

Eloquent Sermons Preached By Various Ministers to Attentive Congregations.

Yesterday was a beautiful day and the churches were all well attended. The local ministers were in their pulpits and preached strong sermons both morning and night to attentive audiences.

Rev. G. W. Perryman's night theme was "The Young Man Is Safe," which was a continuation of answer to the sermon of the Sunday night before on "Is the Young Man Safe?" He was heard by a large audience and much interest was manifested. The young man Samson and his successful fight with the lion in his path was the subject of the discourse. Lessons to the young men of today on how to successfully cope with the lions that beset their paths on every hand, were deduced from that. Unless prepared beforehand men will be overcome by the surprise of the attack, for the lions rise up suddenly. He urged the necessity of taking Christ for a companion as a safeguard. To go nowhere that Christ cannot go, to engage in no pursuit that Christ does not approve. He gave some excellent advice and warning and closed with a strong appeal for Christian manhood, purity and honor.

Rev. J. C. Reid, of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, preached an especial sermon to young men last night, also. His subject was "A Plea for our Young Men." Mr. Reid always gives some strong and forcible thoughts, and is always heard with interest.

Rev. W. H. Pinkerton preached two able sermons yesterday on the "Anointing for Burial" and "Principles of Anarchy in Modern Civil Government," and presented some fine thoughts.

Dr. Briggs at the Broadway Methodist church was heard by good crowds both morning and night. His morning sermon on "One Cent Versus Four Million Dollars," was a strong argument on the beauty and duty of giving in the church. His evening subject was a theme of general interest, "Czolgosz, or God and His Lost Souls," and attracted many. He held that if we lived more nearly the teachings of Christ such characters as Czolgosz and other Anarchists would not be, and such tragedies as our recent one would not happen. Their environments made them what they were, and so they must be judged and will be by God.

There was service at Temple Israel last evening, celebrating the beginning of "Yom Kippur," the memorial for the dead. It was a very solemn and impressive occasion.

As a result of temperance meetings held here recently, the various congregations have passed resolutions or taken formal action calling the attention of the mayor to the fact, and the committee will present these resolutions to Mayor Lang.

THE GALLERY

ONE OF THE BEST LOCATIONS IN "THE KENTUCKY."

In connection with the opening of the Kentucky little or nothing has been said relative to the gallery tickets. The first three rows, on both the sides allotted to the whites and colored, are to be reserved on all occasions, but the others are to be filled upon the first come first served order on the opening evening the general admission to the gallery is to be one dollar and there is no reason why there should be an empty seat. The gallery is one of the finest views in the beautiful house and accessible in a way the public must declare convenient. The entrance is from the alley, near Fifth street and just north of the Palmer house, to which a nice and clean brick walk leads. For the sale of tickets to the gallery the box office will be opened Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock and tickets will be sold from the side of the box office at the foot of the gallery steps and just in front of the entrance door. Here at all times the first to come will be the first served. There are comfortable seats in the gallery, the public should understand.

CIRCUIT COURT

Suits Being Filed for the Civil Term of Court.

MANY ON THE DOCKET

Two Divorce Suits Filed Today—One Divorce Granted Saturday.

WIND UP OF CRIMINAL TERM

The civil term of circuit court will begin the third Monday in October. Clerk Hobson will shortly begin to make out the docket which will close all the suits for this term. Ten days before the time of convening is the last day allowed the lawyers to file suits and after that time no more suits for this term will be filed.

The suits for the term just finished amounted to over two hundred, and it is thought that the November term will not reach this number. The following suits were filed with the clerk this morning:

Mry E. Nichols filed a suit against her husband, W. R. Nichols, for divorce and the restoration of her maiden name, Mary E. Hughes. She cites the cruel treatment of the defendant and also the threatening of her life, and these she gives as grounds for the action.

John Ray filed a suit against his wife, Malissa Ray, asking for an absolute divorce and the custody of their child. He says the defendant has been associating with bad characters, and these he gives as grounds for the suit.

Mamie Dew was given a judgment for divorce against her husband, Tom Dew, and also the custody of their child.

Pete Richards and Kid Snow, the two white men charged with stealing Mr. H. C. Allison's diamond stud during the Elks' carnival, were convicted in the circuit court Saturday and given three years each.

Richards is a noted St. Louis crook. His wife has been here during the trial, and took his conviction very hard. Snow's alias is Willard Anderson and he comes of a prominent Texas family. His grandfather, who is county clerk of Dallas, was here a few weeks ago to employ counsel for him. The attorneys made a motion for a new trial, which was over-ruled, and an appeal was taken.

Mrs. Myrtle Mallory was granted a divorce from Lucien Mallory, and restored to her maiden name, Myrtle Glover.

The grand jury returned eighteen indictments Saturday, and ignored the indictments against Oscar Hynes, for obtaining money under false pretenses, and Jack Casey, for malicious cutting.

The deceased was the widow of James Garrard, a descendant of the second governor of Kentucky. Her husband served the state as treasurer before the civil war.

INTER-STATE FAIR OPENS.

Louisville Sept. 23.—The Louisville inter-state fair, which, it is hoped, will become a permanent state fair, opens its gates to the public at Churchill Downs this afternoon for the first time. An elaborate inaugural programme has been arranged. Mr. Charles F. Huhlein, the director general, has issued a proclamation to the people of Louisville and Kentucky asking them to give the fair their support.

AMENDED ARTICLES FILED.

An amendment to the articles of incorporation of the Democrat Publishing Co. has been filed increasing the capital stock from $30,000 to $55,000.

PLEADED "GUILTY."

His Lawyers Withdrew the Plea—Seven Jurors Have Been Secured.

It Is Thought There May Have Been a Plot. The Bullets Had No Poison on Them.

Buffalo, Sept. 23.—Leon Czolgosz, the assassin, was taken from prison this morning placed on trial for murder. At first he pleaded guilty, but his attorneys then withdrew this plea and pleaded not guilty.

Up to the recess hour, seven jurors had been secured. Yesterday's most important development in the Czolgosz case was that no poison had been found on the bullets or the revolver with which the anarchist assassinated President McKinley. Chemicals and bacteriological examinations were made, and both revealed the fact that no poison was used.

Another examination to determine the exact mental condition of the prisoner was made in the county jail by Dr. Carlos F. McDonald of New York, the alienist who was brought here for the defense by the Erie County Bar Association, and Dr. A. W. Hurd, superintendent of the Buffalo state hospital.

The alienists were with the assassin for one hour and a half, and when they left both declared to discuss the case.

A Cleveland dispatch says that investigations by police detectives reveal the startling possibility that a plot to assassinate President McKinley was laid a year or more ago, before he was elected for his second term, and that it may have been laid in the peaceful precincts of Orange township, where the assassin, was taken from prison.

A remittance made to the assassin by his brother, Waldeck Czolgosz, about a month ago led to the investigation that may have the important bearing on the case. From the first the Buffalo police and the secret service agents of the federal government have been strong in their belief that there was a plot, although the Cleveland police have been inclined to doubt the theory. One of the strong elements in the belief of the Buffalo and secret service detectives has been the fact that the handkerchief with which the assassin concealed the hand in which he held the revolver, was a woman's handkerchief.

What is more important is that the handkerchief was tied about the hand in a way that he, it is claimed, would not have been able to tie it himself, no matter how skillful he might have been with the other hand, or how much time he might have taken to tie it. The fact that Czolgosz had money impelled the detectives to try and learn where he got it. Today his brother, Waldeck Czolgosz, confessed having sent it to Leon under the name of Frank Snyder, at West Seneca, N. Y. In his search for clues Detective Schunck learned that the Czolgosz boys, Leon and Waldeck, have been readers of socialist papers for five years.

Shortly before 8 o'clock a jury was secured in the Czolgosz case.

Frank Brewera, white, foreman at the works at Iron Ore Switch, near Kuttawa, was run over supposedly by train No. 154, in charge of Conductor Mulhall, last night and instantly killed. His body was cut and horribly mangled and was found this morning by a colored man employed at the workings. The coroner of Kuttawa was summoned and the remains removed temporarily to that place.

The remains were at first unidentified, but later on the employees at the switch identified him and his remains were taken to Henning, Tenn., his former home, for interment. He had been at the workings only a short time, and nothing of the man and his habits were known, but it is supposed that he had been drinking, and that he could not get out of the way of the train. The conductor and engineer on train No. 154 telegraphed that they knew nothing of the accident and had not seen anything of the man. The remains were found about one-quarter of a mile south of the switch.

Mr. C. O. Griffin, the operator in the Yardmaster's office, is slightly improved today, but still unable to resume his duties. He went to the I. C. hospital this morning. He will probably be able to be at his post again before the expiration of the week.

Chief dispatcher A. J. Jorgenson went to Louisville this morning but will return again tonight. He will then leave for the east on a thirty days' leave of absence. Second dispatcher J. B. Alvey is now acting as chief dispatcher.

Mr. G. H. Durst, of the night watch at the oil house, has been transferred to the Master Mechanic's office and Mr. John Trent was sent to fill the position of Mr. Durst. Mr. Trent has been in the Master Mechanic's office for the past several weeks.

Trainmaster Jack Flynn is in the city today examining all the employees of his division who have not been heretofore examined in the new book of rules. Several were sick during the holding of the examinations, and were unable to undergo the questions and several who will be examined have been taken into the service since the first of the month, when the new rules went into effect.

Mr. Tom Hacker, of the car repairing department, has resigned his position and will leave shortly for his home near Vienna, Ill. He was employed under foreman Swanson.

Superintendent W. J. Hills, of the N. C. & St. L. R. R., went out on a tour of inspection this morning.

Passenger train No. 104 was three hours and fifteen minutes late this morning as a result of bad connections with the southern trains. The traffic on that end of the line is very heavy and the night trains are often delayed. The travel through to Buffalo is also heavy and much more than it has been in some time. The close of the exposition is drawing near and the travel of delinquent pleasure seekers is now having its run.

Hugh French, a young man of Jackson, Tenn., bookkeeper for G. H. Robertson & Co., has accepted the position of stenographer for Trainmasters Flynn and Russell at Fulton, succeeding Mr. Ed Whittaker, who goes to Memphis.

Mr. W. N. Amis, aged 29, who was chief clerk to Roadmaster P. Liden, at Fulton, died at the latter place Saturday. The remains were buried in Jackson, Tenn.

Trainmaster T. A. Banks, of the Central City district, has returned from Springfield, Tenn., where he attended the funeral of his father.

Mr. William A. Love, formerly foreman of the water works of the St. Louis division of the I. C., was in the city today at noon enroute to Louisville. He has been transferred to the Louisiana division, with headquarters at Wilson, Miss., and will assume his new duties immediately. He is succeeded by Mr. John Evans, who has been employed under him.

Mr. T. A. Banks, Trainmaster of the Paducah division of the I. C., went to Kuttawa this morning and

DAILY THOUGHT.

"An admirable thing about Mr. McKinley was that he was too big and broad and charitable to cherish hatred or feelings of resentment against those who assailed him. No mean and narrow spirit of bitterness found lodgment in his heart."

The friends of Admiral Schley seem to think that he achieved something of a victory in insisting on the court's refusal to allow the answer of Rear Admiral Higginson relative to whether the admiral under investigation did all he could to destroy the Spanish fleet or not, to remain on the records. The general public may have its own opinion about Admiral Schley and the credit to which he is entitled, but it is based on sentiment and nothing else. The men in the navy, especially those who were on the spot at the time, know more about it, and should be allowed to tell just what was done and what was not done, and what could have been done. If one of the admirals of our navy who was there thinks that Schley did not do all that might have been done, he should be allowed to say so, and to explain why he thinks so. If his testimony can be shaken by the cross examination of the defendant's counsel, or his reasons for thinking as he does are insufficient, the court can give his evidence the proper consideration in finally deciding the case. The American public wants now nothing concealed. It is true that opinions are not evidence, but what the people want are the facts and if opinions can help disclose facts, they should at least be heard. More latitude is allowed in cases of this kind than might be in others, and often an opinion, backed up by sound reasoning and corroborative facts, is as good as any other kind of evidence. What the people want is all the facts and everything that may lead to facts. The gentlemen who compose the court are amply qualified and sufficiently fair minded to weed out all incompetent testimony in rendering a decision.

The grand jury has been in session and those who have been howling about city officials being in collusion with the saloon keepers and permitting them to violate the Sabbath for a price, have had an opportunity to go before the grand jury and tell what they know. If they know anything they should have told it. If they didn't know anything they should never have made the charges. If the grand jury had sufficient evidence to indict any one for any of these real or fancied evils, and didn't do it, it should come in for its share of the censure. If there was nothing in the whole thing, however, as the result seems to indicate, somebody owes an apology to the maligned officials.

The feeling against yellow journalism becomes more and more intense, and W. R. Hearst, who owns the three principal "yellow plagues" in the United States, has been burned again in effigy, this time with Emma Goldman. In San Francisco the feeling is so strong that prominent men are urging united action to suppress the yellow journal there, and many members of the Merchants' club have signed an agreement not to subscribe to or advertise in it. The paper's Washington correspondence of February 4, 1900, contained these lines:

Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, one of the most solemn days in the Jewish holiday calendar, began last evening and lasts until 6 o'clock this evening. It is a memorial of the dead and is observed by prayer and fasting. The next holiday is Succoth or the Feast of the Tabernacles, which will be observed next Sunday, and is the last of the series.

CONCERT WEDNESDAY NIGHT.
Dean's band will give a free open air concert on Broadway, near Fifth street, Wednesday night. The music will begin about 7 o'clock and an excellent program has been arranged. The band has been rehearsing several new overtures and marches and will render an absolutely new program.

The bullet that pierced Goebel's chest cannot be found in all the west; good reason. It is speeding here to stretch McKinley on the bier."

"Chairman" Joe Potter signed a certificate giving the nomination for magistrate in the Seventh district to P. F. Gholson. Now he has "called" the county committee together to take up the same matter and possibly give another certificate to some one else. If the committee should meet in pursuance to his "call," and give the certificate to Mr. Gholson again, it would be conclusive evidence that the first action was not legal, or if it should give it to some one else, it would be equally as plain. In either event it would leave the committee in a bad light and show that neither it nor the "chairman" knows "where it is at."

Senator Mark Hanna, who probably deems a hostile press as much, indirectly, the cause of President McKinley's assassination as anything, has announced that he will never again be interviewed by any paper. When asked a question Saturday by a reporter relative to the new administration, he said: "I am done with being interviewed for all time."

Senator Hanna and President Roosevelt will be on the same cordial, confidential terms that Senator Hanna and President McKinley were on. This has been decided at an informal meeting of the two, at which friendship was mutually pledged.

It was a wise move on the part of the Democrats to get out their ticket early this year. If they should undertake to get one out now, with the beautiful row that has been on for some time in the county committee, they would have a lovely time of it.

It is announced from Frankfort that Captain Harry Tandy will have no opposition in his party for the secretary of state nomination. The Frankfort crowd seems to have fixed things up pretty early in the game.

The Kentucky is ready for the big opening. Paducah now has one of the finest opera houses in the country. There are only three larger ones in the United States.

It will be a rather melancholy duty for the eminent attorneys appointed by the court to defend Czolgosz, but they are only to see that he gets a fair trial.

Already 48,000,000 yards of black cotton cloth have been sold for mourning during the designated period for President McKinley.

Wonder how Chairman Potter likes the idea of being championed by an erstwhile "bolter" and advocate of sound money?

Judging from the way things have been going, one court of inquiry will be enough to satisfy Admiral Schley.

Paducah's business continues to show a wonderful increase every week.

There is probably a little heat left over from last summer, after all.

A WINDY PLACE.

The Wind Cave of Dakota has lately been acquired by the government, and is to be made a show place. It well deserves its name, for the log cabin built over its mouth has had to be fastened to the ground by heavy timbers, and the logs mortised and pinned to prevent the building from being raised from its foundations and hurled skyward by the immense force of the wind from within.

The first explorer of the cave discovered that when the mouth was closed by heavy timbers the motion of the wind ceased, and a person inside did not feel it except at a few particular points. It was for this reason that the cabin was built over the entrance, with an inner door fitting closely against the portals of the cave itself in such a way that the air was completely blocked.

A sightseer, who afterward sent an account of his experiences to a daily paper, came to the door of the little hut and heard a roaring sound emanating from the earth, followed by a slamming of a door that the building shook. It was nothing but the opening of the inner door to allow of the exit of a guide, but it had a terrible sound.

Within the cabin the visitors saw nothing but a cupboard, from which the two guides provided them with candles in tin candlesticks attached to strips of wood. The party then formed in line, as the door could only be opened long enough to admit one person at a time. If it were kept open the wind would tear the building to pieces.

A guide went first. Seizing the bar fastening the door, he turned it slowly to near the end of the clamp that held it, then giving a quick wrench, darted through the door as the force within sent it open. As soon as he was inside he seized an iron ring, and adding his strength to that of the guide who had remained without slammed the door. With one man on the inside and one out, it was much easier for the guides to handle the door, and each member of the party ran through in turn as the door opened.

The cave itself is a wonderful place. The guides have explored two thousand, six hundred rooms, covering a lineal distance of ninety miles, but they say that the extent of the cave is not yet known.

Forty miles north of the entrance is another and almost equally beautiful cavern called crystal cave. The guides believe that some day it will be found that one is a continuation of the other.

Some parts of the wind cave are three thousand feet below the surface of the earth. All kinds of weird and beautiful effects are gained by burning lights in one or another of the rooms. Stalactites cover walls and ceilings in many of the caverns, and the cave is full enough of terrors and delights to satisfy the most exacting cave hunter.

COURT AT BENTON.

JUDGE HUSBANDS WENT OUT TO DAY TO OPEN CIRCUIT COURT.

Circuit Judge L. D. Husbands went out to Benton this morning to open the regular criminal term of court. It will last two weeks, and the most important case on the docket is against one of the Greer boys, charged with the murder of John Thomas, colored, for which one of them is now serving a life sentence. There are other cases on the docket, but none of importance.

The Greer case in all probability will not be tried at this term.

It is also said of Mr. Gage that in all his business life, which he began at a salary of $500 a year, he was never discharged and never sought a better position than the one he occupied. All his promotions came to him unolicited.

Ulcers, open or obstinate sores, scalds and piles, quickly cured by Banner Salve, the most healing medicine in the world.

FREAKISH TRAVELERS.

How three men made an exhibition of themselves on their way to the exposition at Paris is related by the Strand Magazine. The first two of them hailed from Vienna, one a merchant, the other a restaurant keeper. They laid a wager of five thousand crowns that they would reach the exhibition on foot within two months, trundling before them all the way a huge wine barrel, which, although empty, weighed over five hundred pounds. The barrel was decorated with the arms of Vienna and Paris, and stamped with the date 1900.

Although these humorists covered eighteen miles a day, they drove matters pretty close, for they entered the Vincennes gate of the city only a few hours before the end of the stipulated time.

A more interesting feat was that of the Dutchman who wagered a considerable sum that he would walk from Amsterdam to the Paris Exhibition on a pair of high stilts without once taking them off by the way. He accomplished his object easily, and had plenty of time to spare, the stilts enabling him to cover the ground at a rapid rate. He declared that he would do it over again with pleasure, provided he could be sure of convenient sleeping quarters.

It was here that he experienced his greatest difficulty. The stilts made him too tall to enter inns, taverns or farmhouses, and he was obliged to sleep as best he could by the wayside.

After lying on the ground two or three times he found the difficulty of getting on his feet again so great that afterward he preferred to recline on the roof of a house, allowing his legs to rest on the ground. He found a haystack preferable in some respects to the roof of a house, although on one occasion a woman, seeing his stilts against the stack, and not looking high enough to see the man on top, began to hack at the end of one of them for firewood.

His most pathetic reminiscence, however, was of an attempt he was compelled to make to sleep on or against a tree.

FEAST OF THE HARVEST.

The Feast of the Harvest is being observed today by the Catholics, and special services were held at the St. Frances De Sales church. The commemoration lasts until tomorrow.

CONSUMPTION THREATENED.

C. Unger, 212 Maple street, Champaign, Ill., writes, "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me and I have not been troubled since."

ECZEMA

Eczeema sets the skin on fire. The acid poisons in the blood are forced out through the pores of the skin, causing intense redness, burning and itching. So terrible is the itching at times, especially when the body is overheated, that the almost distracted sufferer feels that he could tear the skin to pieces, and that he must scratch or go crazy. He knows from experience that this only makes matters worse, but, made desperate by the terrible burning and itching, he is for the time being indifferent to after effects. There are several forms of Eczeema, the moist, or weeping kind, that comes in little pustules which discharge a watery, sticky fluid, which dries and peels off in bran-like scales. So profuse is the discharge at times that large scales or crusts form, which are both painful and troublesome, and not easily removed. Red, disfiguring bumps and sores are symptoms of Eczeema. The dry form usually attacks the head, hands and feet; the skin, becoming hard and rough, often cracking open and bleeding, and attended with much itching. Eczeema depends upon a poisoned condition of the blood, and local applications, while soothing and cooling, and may to some extent relieve the inflammation and itching, cannot be considered cures, because external remedies do not reach constitutional or blood diseases. Salves, ointments, powders, lotions and soaps do more harm than good, by smothering over and sealing up the pores of the skin, thus forcing the poison back into the blood. S. S. S. antiseptics and neutralizes the acid poisons and drives out of the circulation all impurities and humors, and the pure, rich blood that is carried to the diseased skin quickly allays the inflammation, opens the clogged up pores, and the skin becomes soft, smooth and ready to perform its proper functions. To be rid of Eczeema you must first purify and build up the blood, and nothing so surely and effectually does this as S. S. S., the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. Send for our book on blood and skin diseases and write our physicians for any information or advice you may desire. Medical advice and book free.

Observations
...at Random

A well known merchant has had an abundance of experience with slot machines. The experience was not very pleasant, either. His slot machine contained salted peanuts, and a penny dropped into the slot brought forth a generous supply of the goobers. But some investigating fellow discovers that other things would do just as well as a penny and as the "other things" were most frequently more plentiful than the pennies, the result was a harvest of "other things" and a very meagre crop of pennies.

He established one of the machines in front of a down town drug store, and when the supply of peanuts was exhausted opened the strong box and found seventy-five gun wads and ten copper cents. The drug man had a kick coming, too, for the gun wads had been taken from the store to exchange for the peanuts. A number of persons, however, had hit on an even less expensive plan, and dropped small discs of well masticated chewing gum into the slot, finding that they worked as well as a penny—or a gun wad.
The gentleman was told that the gun wad contributions were largely a "jolly," but he decided that there was very little "jolly" in swapping half a bushel of salted peanuts for a hat full of gun wads, so he refused to stand for it, and the jig is up.

For the first time in the history of the world, not a telegraph sounder moved, and not a pulsation went through an ocean cable for five minutes Thursday.
At 2:30 o'clock, by previous arrangement, every telegraph instrument from the Atlantic to the Pacific was still, in respect to the dead president. One hundred thousand operators for five minutes were idle, and then there was a resumption of the rattle and click of thousands of instruments as a busy world resumed its way.

A young man who went to the railroad yards to get a position in the railroad service was disappointed and all on account of his inquisitive nature. A painter, who used the air brush instead of the brushes, had laid down his machine to perform another duty. The painting was being done on the outside of the shop on a side track. He left the air turned off but the reservoir was about half filled with red paint. The young man saw the machine and began to inspect it.
At length his curiosity got the better of him and he picked it up to better inquire into its workings. As he looked down the mouth of the spray he accidentally turned on the air and a thin stream of red paint caught him full in the face and chest. His clothes were ruined and to make matters worse he dropped the machine in confusion without turning off the air and the lower portion of the young man's trousers were also liberally soaked.
He finally regained his presence of mind and turned off the air current and then "ramoused." He has not been seen since.

"I like perseverance in a man, even in a hackman," said Mr. Peterson to the friend who reports his remarks for the Woman's Home Companion.
"And there is one particular job doing business in Washington who possesses that quality in the superlative degree.
"When I visited the national capital I had my mind fully made up to have nothing to do with the hackmen; so when I stepped off the train and a crowd of these gentry began shouting at me, I simply shook my head and passed on. One of them, however, was not to be thus easily disposed of.
Dancing around in front of me, so as to block my progress he vociferated:
"Hack, mister? Take you to the Washington Monument or the capitol
Only half dollar!"
"Again I shook my head."
"Smithsonian Institution or treasury building? Take you to both of em for seventy-five cents!"
"Still I shook my head."
"Arlington and Fort Meyer? Drive you over and back for two dollars!"
"As before, I responded with a shake of the head."
"Navy-yard or Soldiers' Home?
Either place for a dollar!"
"Another shake of the head."
"Want to go to the White House and see the president? Drive you right there for fifty cents!"
"More headshaking."
"Patent office or state department?
Same price as the white house!"
"Another shake."
"Mind you, all this time I hadn't opened my mouth or uttered a word and from the puzzled look on the hackman's face I thought I had him about discouraged; but as I shoved past him, thinking to make my escape, his countenance suddenly brightened and I heard him mutter:
"By George, I've hit it now! I'll try him just now more!" And then running around in front of me again, he spelled out on his fingers, in the deaf and dumb alphabet, with which I chance to be familiar, "Deaf and Dumb Aylman? Take you right to the door for a quarter!"

Mr. Frank Mantz showed us an old relic this morning of 1858 and with his permission we copy the original document as the item pertains to river matters and contribute same to our river column. We have also in our possession the ten dollar bill in question which was issued by the Merchants' bank of Lowell, Mass., at a time when state banks were all the go.

"State of Kentucky, Livingston county. This day the affiant Wm. H. Mantz personally appeared before me the undersigned a J. P. for said county and after being first sworn saith that on the 23d November, 1858, the steamboat Council Bluffs landed at Smithland and took forty boxes of coal from him and in part payment for same paid him a ten dollar bill or bill purported to be a ten dollar bill on the Merchants' Bank of Massachusetts Letter B. No. 1999 which bill is a counterfeit as he is informed and verily believes and is worthless. Witness my hand this 30th Nov. 1858. W. H. Mantz.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by W. H. Mantz this 30th day of Nov. 1858. W. Beverly, J. P."

MR. LEE HOOD. POPULAR AND COURTEOUS YOUNG MAN TREASURER AT "THE KENTUCKY."

The treasurer of The Kentucky is to be Mr. Lee Hood, who for some time was the very popular and obliging day clerk of the Palmer house. This announcement will not only delight the friends of Mr. Hood, who are many, but also the patrons of The Kentucky, for it is more than satisfactory to have an affable gentleman in charge of the box office of the city's beautiful new play house.

Except upon the opening occasion, or rather up until tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock, tickets to The Kentucky will be on sale at Dr. McPherson's drug store, but after 6 o'clock the sale will be only at The Kentucky box office, with Mr. Hood in charge. The public should note this announcement and not mislead themselves. It is certainly clear enough.

Mrs. C., bought her three sons school suits here and was so well pleased that she has sent us good customers since. Come and try us also.

We believe that if you knew the real value of the new suits we are selling for $5.00 and $7.50 a suit, that you would hurry up to secure one.

We are under-pricing men's shirts; most every body buys that sees them.

Our line of men's overalls and jumpers at 50 and 75 cents are remarkable values when compared to the average sold at these prices.

Mattings, Carpets, Rugs, Window Shades and Lace Curtains.

Just remember till you need something in these lines, that it may pay you handsomely to get our prices before spending your money elsewhere.
